Health Help

Q. A person has been advised by a doctor to have a biopsy done right away on a growth. The family is not on welfare, but has a low income. Where can this person go for help in Orange County? M.H., Cypress.

A. Contact the Orange County Medical Center, 101 S. Manchester Ave., Orange. The center has an outpatient clinic as well as a coordinated program for the treatment of cancer. If a patient has little money, the hospital staff will try to link him up with one of the welfare programs which would cover part of the cost. If the person needs counseling or transportation to get to and from the hospital, have him contact Margaret Eberly at the American Cancer Society, 18356 Fourth Ave., Tustin. (714) 638-0510. In Los Angeles County, California Hospital, 1414 S. Hope St., Los Angeles, 748-2411, has a cancer screening and tumor clinic. Fees are charged on an ability-to-pay basis.

Watch and Wait

Q. In January 1968 I sent two watches to Weissman Watch Corp. in New York for repair. I was notified that the charges would be $5.50, and I sent a check immediately. Since that time I have been trying to get my watches back. In November I received a letter saying a tracer had been put on them, but I haven't heard anything since. Will ACTION LINE please, please help me before I have a nervous breakdown over this ordeal? Mrs. W. R. S., Lomita.

A. ACTION LINE talked to Margie Quinones in the company's customer service department, who says a claim form has been sent to the post office, requesting reimbursement for the lost package. When the company receives payment for the insured amount, two new watches will be sent to you, Miss Quinones promised.

Israeli?

Q. I once heard that when the nation of Israel was established it was called Israeli, so there would be no confusion between the new nation's identity and that of the Biblical nation. Is that true? Also, can you help me find "A History of the Jews," by Abram Leon Sachar? L.P., Long Beach.

A. ACTION LINE checked several histories of the formation of Israel and could find no confirmation of your statement. The independence of Israel was proclaimed on May 14, 1948. David Ben-Gurion read the proclamation which said, "We hereby proclaim the establishment of the Jewish State in Palestine, to be called Medinath Yisrael (The State of Israel)." A representative of the Israeli Consulate in Los Angeles said the Jewish state has always been called Israel. A reference copy of the book you are looking for is available in the Los Angeles City Library, 630 W. Fifth St., Los Angeles. You can purchase a paperback or hardbound edition of the book from Random House Inc., Order Department, Hahn Road, Westminster, Md. 21157. The paperback, order number X482, costs $3.20; the hardbound, order number 2871, costs $8.20.

Have a Cigar

Q. I will soon be a grandpop. Where can I buy cigars that read "granddaughter" or "grandson" on them? F.G., Paramount.

A. Contact John Goodart at L.B. Ball & Co., cigar wholesalers, 2567 Temple Ave., Long Beach. He can arrange for you to obtain two boxes of high-grade cigars. One box will have cigars with the word "granddaughter" and the other box will contain cigars with the word "grandson." The cost will be $23.10 for the two boxes. You'll need to order both because it takes about six weeks to get the special-printed cigars. If you just want cigars with the words, "it's a boy" or "it's a girl," you can purchase them from stock for between $3.50 and $10, depending upon the grade.

Technical Question

Q. My husband wants to go to Los Angeles Trade-Technical College. We are told he must have a permit from Long Beach. Long Beach says we are not in its district. We live on the southeast corner of Pioneer and Del Amo Boulevards in Lakewood. What district are we in? Mrs. V.S., Lakewood.

A. You are in the Cerritos Junior College District. Your husband can get a permit from the district only if the classes he wants to take are not offered at Cerritos Junior College. If he wants to take just one or two classes at Los Angeles Trade-Technical which amount to nine hours in the classroom or less, he does not need a permit. For permit information, contact June Atherton in the administration building at Cerritos Junior College, 11110 E. Alondra Blvd., Norwalk, Calif. 90650, 800-2451.

President Flies to Florida

Slates Weekend of Vital Foreign Policy Planning

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — President Nixon arrived here Friday night for a weekend of sunbathed diplomatic planning in vital foreign policy areas, including his forthcoming trip to Europe.

The chief executive flew south from Washington after a busy day at the White House and landed at Homestead Air Force Base, Fla. He proceeded by helicopter to Key Biscayne where he owns two waterfront homes.

NIXON was accompanied by Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, the White House foreign policy expert. He spent about 90 minutes of the two-hour flight with the two men.

In addition to talks, Nixon said he was looking forward to swimming in Biscayne Bay or the nearby Atlantic Ocean. He said he preferred the saltwater dips to swimming in the heated White House pool.

The flight was the first by the new chief White House pilot, Air Force 1st. Col. Ralph Albertazzi, a veteran transport pilot who has seen extended service in Vietnam. The sleek jetliner was one of the so-called Air Force "executive mission" planes, although it is not the jet referred to as Air Force One which is now being refurbished to suit the tastes of the new President.

There was nothing of a weekend schedule other than wide-ranging discussions of foreign policy matters with Kissinger and Rogers. The conversations were to be highly informal, with most of them held outside where Nixon's lawn runs to the shores of the bay.

KISSINGER is expected to leave for Europe shortly after this weekend to make advance plans for Nixon's visit to each of the western European capitals beginning Feb. 23. Nixon plans talks with government leaders in each city.

Earlier Friday, Nixon pledged to extend the opportunity for getting ahead to all segments of society. He then conferred with Roy Wilkins, the first Negro leader Nixon has met since becoming president.

Jet Plummets Into Japan City, Kills 1

KANAZAWA, Japan Saturday (UPI) — A Japanese jet fighter plane crashed into a residential section of this coastal city in a snowstorm today and set fire to a block of homes, authorities reported.

They said at least one person on the ground was killed, but said the pilot apparently parachuted to safety.

The suit charged that the airline was "obligated to exercise the highest degree of diligence and care for the protection of the plaintiff against injury, assault and inconvenience."

Sirhan Hopes for 'I to 10'

By MARY NEISWENDER

Despite a plea of innocence to the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, defense attorneys for accused assassin Sirhan Bishara Sirhan don't expect a "not guilty" verdict.

So said chief defense counsel Grant Cooper as he questioned one of 11 prospective alternate jurors in an unsuccessful attempt Friday to seal a six-member alternate jury panel.

Passenger in Hijack Files Suit

MIAMI (UPI) — A passenger on a jet that was hijacked filed a damage suit against Eastern Air Lines Friday, charging negligence and saying the experience aggravated a heart condition.

Rocco Roy Pompeo, employee of an auto sales firm, asked for more than $5,880 in damages and also for compensation for hospital expenses, lost work time, and a $175 camel hair coat with $156 in cash in the pocket which he said was lost in the hijack.

* * * *

POMPEO was one of the 138 passengers on Eastern's flight 401 on

Jan. 2, a DC-8 flying from New York to Miami.

The plane was hijacked to Cuba by a gunman wearing an Afro-style haircut.

Pompeo complained that before the gunman forced a stewardess to let him into the cockpit, he pointed the gun at Pompeo. Pompeo said that Cuban guards would not let him retrieve the camel hair coat from the plane in Havana and that he never saw it again.

AND BROWN SURF SPRAY Along the Beach: Black Desolation

By BILL MADDEN
Staff Writer

Somebody once said: "Words can never convey my impression to describe the indescribable," and that quotation seems to fit what I saw in Santa Barbara.

Driving north from

Long Beach, the ocean

first comes into view near the Ventura County line

where a stretch of beach

winds its way in a large arc, giving the motorist a magnificent view of gently rolling blue ocean. To me, the view has always meant I have only 25 miles to go before I'm home. After the long freeway drive it is a pleasant change to drive along that beachfront at a slower pace.

Friday, it was different.

* * * *

THERE was a storm at sea sending in four-foot

waves which broke over the line of boulders separating the highway from the beach. Usually a beautiful sight to see the spray leap 20 feet into the air,

this time the waves were black and the spray was brown. A heavy, sickly brown. It stuck to the roadway, the rocks and the soft white sand where for years children have played and built sand cas-les.

About seven miles to the north, where a hundrd or so surfers have become part of the normal scene, the free-flowing oil has impregnated

the shore and settled on the surf. The surfers were not there.

At Carpinteria (the world's safest beach) there was not a sign of life.

A FEW sea gulls lay prone on the black, despoiled sand and the seals, who often come close enough to take a look,

keep their distance outside the oil reef.

It was as though all na-

Cong Camp Overrun, 43 Killed

SAIGON, Saturday — South Vietnamese infantrymen raided a Viet Cong camp southwest of Saigon Friday and freed 30 civilian prisoners after killing 43 guerrillas and capturing 21, military spokesmen said today. About 400 government troops were sweeping the area near the Mekong River 65 miles south of Saigon when they discovered and attacked the base. The Communists put up only scattered resistance.

and the government troops suffered "light" casualties as they overran the camp, the spokesmen said. The Cong apparently were holding the 30 civilians for forced labor.

Priests, Monks Draw Warning From Thieu

SAIGON — President Nguyen Van Thieu has ordered authorities in South Vietnam's provinces to arrest Buddhist monks and Roman Catholic priests who make "political sermons" that inflame the people, it was disclosed Friday. "Monks and priests are free to go to their pagodas and churches to conduct ceremonies and to pray," Thieu said during a trip to the Mekong River Delta province of Co Cong. "But if they deliver political sermons to stir up the people, the province chiefs should arrest them and then report to me." Thieu charged that the Communists were planning to use religious and political organizations to stir up antigovernment feeling.

Secret Peace Talks on Viet Confirmed

PARIS — American and North Vietnamese delegates to the Vietnam peace conference have made secret contact outside the formal meetings to try to prevent a prolonged deadlock, sources said Friday. Separate sources close to both sides in the peace conference confirmed the delegates from Hanoi and Washington had been in secret contact since the four-way talks began Jan. 18. Spokesmen of the American and North Vietnamese delegations refused to discuss the report.

Soviet Union Launches Cosmos 265

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union launched an unmanned spaceship into orbit around Earth Friday. The news agency Tass said all equipment aboard Cosmos 265 is functioning "normally." ### Nigerian Bombs Kill 300 Biafrans

UMUOHIAGU — Divebombing Nigerian warplanes killed 300 Biafrans and wounded 500 in a lightning attack on the crowded Umuohiagu market, Biafran authorities reported Friday. Biafra said it was the second costliest Nigerian air raid of the 20-month-old civil war. Witnesses said the Soviet-made jets caught nearly 1,000 persons in the market. First they strafed it with cannon and rockets, then dropped their bombs. One bomb landed in front of a maternity clinic, killing 15 women and children. The Biafran information bureau in Geneva said the raid was second in intensity to the Nigerian air attack on Otuocha which killed 500 Biafrans last year.

$300 Million in Aid to Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE — Premier Oldrich Cernik announced Czechoslovakia has received about $300 million in industrial credits Friday but warned that the political situation in the Soviet-occupied country remains explosive. The premier declined to identify the sources of the financial credits but indicated that at least some came from Western nations.

VIENNA — Radio Prague said Friday 25,000 Czechoslovaks are living abroad illegally. A broadcast said 35,000 citizens left their homeland since the Soviet-led invasion in August and that only 10,000 of them have permission from the government to remain outside the country.

10 More Yanks Granted Asylum in Sweden

STOCKHOLM — The Swedish Aliens Commission granted asylum Friday to 10 more deserters from the U.S. military services, raising to 175 the number of GIs who have been given refuge in Sweden. The commission said it currently is considering asylum requests from 10 other U.S. servicemen, including: Michael Andersen, 25, of Santa Rosa, and Bagwa Dass, 24, of Los Angeles.

Super Jet Review Ordered by U.S.

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration Friday ordered a high-level review to determine whether continuing the multibillion-dollar supersonic transport (SST) project is worth it. After a meeting with President Nixon, Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said an interagency committee would decide what to do about plans for the 2,000-mile-per-hour aircraft, now nearing the end of the design stage. "We want to check on the feasibility of the project, whether it will pay off economically," Volpe told newsmen. "Funds are in short supply now, so we want to know whether we should slow down or proceed." Despite design delays, the schedule still calls for flying a test model in 1972 and delivery to the airlines in 1976 if the government puts up its share of the funds. Construction of a prototype will cost an estimated $1.4 billion. The FAA has $152 million in unspent SST funds for this purpose. The FAA already has spent $471 million on development and total cost of the entire project is estimated at $4 billion. The plane's backers say the government can recover its share if it sells 300 of the $40 million planes.

Lyndon Johnsons on Building Spree

WASHINGTON — The Lyndon B. Johnsons plan to build a $250,000 home on a 19-acre wooded lot they own in Austin, Tex., in the same neighborhood where their daughter Luci resides, it was disclosed Friday. The former President and his wife love their LBJ ranch 60 miles away at Johnson City, but his new life of lecturing at the University of Texas will require them to be in the Texas capital much of the time. Johnson will have an executive suite in the Lyndon B. Johnson Library and school of public service at the university when it opens in 1970. There also were reports that the Johnsons are building a two-story home for their elder daughter, Mrs. Lynda Robb, on another lot they own in Austin.

'Unbiased' Firms to Get Big U.S. Jobs

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department announced Friday it will award $9.4 million in contracts to three Southern textile companies after receiving assurances they will move to eliminate discrimination in employment. The announcement said the decision was to proceed with the awards "on basis of progress already made" toward equal employment opportunity and assurances of further action given to Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard by top officials of the three firms in personal conferences. The action affects Dan River Mills Inc., Burlington Industries, Inc. and J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc.

Agents Seize 'Dirty Film' at Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND — Plainclothes agents raided the showing of a campus-banned pornographic film at the University of Notre Dame Friday and seized the film in a fracas in which two policemen and several students were injured. St. Joseph County sheriff's deputies converged on the campus building in which about 200 students had gathered to see "Ghost Riders Poems," which had been shown Thursday night as part of a campus conference on pornography and censorship. Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, banned the films and art from the campus after the Thursday night program, saying they contained "hard-core pornography." The three-day exhibit was sponsored by a student organization.

U.S. Closes Air-Polluting Plant

WASHINGTON — For the first time, the government Friday asked a court to close down a plant because it was polluting the air. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, acting under the provisions of the federal Clean Air Act of 1967, said the Justice Department asked the U.S. District Court in Baltimore to order the Bishop Processing Co. of Bishop, Md., closed for violating a consent decree entered last Nov. 1. The plant is an animal rendering outfit.

Food Prices Will Continue to Spiral

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department Friday said food prices probably will continue to go up this year, but the farmers who produce it may make less. In what its economists called a "demand and price situation" report, the department said that increases in retail food prices for 1969 should run about 2 to 2.5 per cent compared with 3.5 per cent for 1968. "Bigger supplies of red meats, chicken, fruits and vegetables are expected in the first half of 1969."

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Jail Ray Author for Contempt

Combined News Services

Author William Bradford Huie was arrested Friday and charged with contempt of court for allegedly violating a ban on pretrial publicity in the James Earl Ray case. Huie wrote series for Look magazine on Ray, who is charged with the April 4, 1968, sniper slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The $30,000 Huie paid Ray for his personal account of the case has been used by Ray to finance his defense. Ray's attorney, Percy Foreman, argued that a conference is necessary between Ray and Huie to settle differences that have arisen concerning the contract between the two men. "I see no reason for allowing a visit in Ray's cell by Mr. Huie," Judge W. Preston Battle said. "Very frankly, I don't trust Mr. Huie not to violate these orders further, if, as and when he pleases." Battle said he feels the two articles by Huie published thus far in Look "had a tremendous damaging effect on this case and cast prejudice on getting a jury within any reasonable time." Huie was arrested when he stepped from the Grand Jury room, where he had testified for two-and-a-half hours on the Ray case. He was charged with violating Battle's tough pretrial publicity order. He immediately posted a $1,000 bond and was released. "I walked out of the jury room and a deputy began reading the warrant for my arrest," Huie told newsmen. "It was really quite impressive."

ALBUM GRAB

Montreal police have seized 1,000 copies of a controversial record album showing Beatle John Lennon and his Japanese girl friend Yoko Ono in the nude. The records were confiscated by vice squad officers who went from store to store pretending to be customers.

TONSILS OUT

LONDON — Beatle George Harrison checked into a hospital Friday night to have his tonsils out. A spokesman for singing group said: "We don't think this will affect his singing." He is expected to stay in the hospital about a week.

FAIR COP CITES A BEATLE

Beatle Paul McCartney was fined $36 Friday for speeding. A Coventry Magistrate's Court also ordered him to pay $20 in back excise taxes. "It's a fair cop," McCartney said when he was stopped doing 55 to 60 in a 40 mph zone. "I thought I was doing just over 40," he told police. McCartney pleaded guilty to both counts in a letter and told the court "I admit keeping an unlicensed vehicle. It was an oversight on the part of the people who look after my affairs but I realize I am personally and ultimately responsible."

SPACEMAN

Belgium Friday hailed U.S. astronaut Frank Borman as a hero on the first day of his two-day Brussels visit on a tour of European capitals. Hundreds of flag-waving school children, including many Americans and pupils of the European school cheered him at the airport where he arrived from Paris this morning. His motorcade was stopped repeatedly in the suburbs by milling crowds shouting "Hey Mr. Borman, long live the astronaut!"

RIFLED

Burglars have taken seven rifles and other items from the apartment of Frank Sinatra Jr., police said Friday. Officers said the thieves entered the singer's West Los Angeles apartment by removing a screen and escaped with items worth an estimated $2,681, including a watch valued at $250, initiated cuff links worth $75, and a money clip worth $140.

BIG BAND ERA

Rudolf Bing, manager of the Metropolitan Opera since 1950, "definitely" will retire at expiration of his contract in 1972. The 68-year-old Vietnamese-born British subject said "If I live to that day in 1972 I will have been here 22 years, which I think is enough," he said. Bing began his controversial career at the Met in 1950 by firing 39 singers.

CHALLENGED

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's candidate for the national flower, the marigold, was challenged Friday. Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., introduced a resolution backing the iris, the official flower of his home state. Dirksen, who has been pressing the cause of the marigold for years, said "I class it . . . with the American eagle when it comes to a symbol of our country."

Officials Ask Ban on L.A. County Raw Milk Sale

State and county officials agreed Friday to seek a court injunction to block an Altadena dairy from selling raw milk in Los Angeles County.

The decision was reached at a conference following a closed door meeting between representatives of the embattled dairy, health officials and the district attorney's office.

Health authorities claim the unpasteurized milk may "carry 'Q fever' organisms."

Since Jan. 24 the dairy has defied an order from Dr. Gerald Heidbreder, county health officer, requiring pasteurization of all milk sold in Los Angeles County.

THE DAIRY contends its milk is not contaminated and can't transmit Q fever and that the county milk commission, not the health officer, has jurisdiction in the case.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz said the dairy's milk was sold in West Covina, Arcadia, Rosemead and Industry.

The district attorney's office, he said, was studying whether the dairy's defiance of the health department order warrants criminal prosecution.

Say County Can't Limit Jet Noise

From Our L.A. Bureau

County Counsel John D. Maharg told the Board of Supervisors Friday control of jet aircraft noise at International Airport is under federal jurisdiction and that local ordinances in the matter would be powerless.

Maharg submitted an eight-page opinion in the matter stating the Federal Aviation Administration has jurisdiction over the noise, citing court decisions.

The court rulings were made on the basis aircraft sound can be reduced only by engine modification and flight pattern changes, both of which fall under FAA jurisdiction.

Maharg submitted a draft of a strongly worded antiaircraft noise resolution which, in final form, will be sent to Joseph P. Pollard, the county's Washington, D.C., representative, who will submit it to the FAA when the agency holds hearings on noise problems.

circumstances . . . could I vote the death penalty . . . no matter how terrible the crime?"

Another prospective juror, mailman Robert W. Perry, was also excused after he admitted he could not be fair to the defendant. "I guess I'm prejudiced," he said.

Six other prospects were excused for hardship, and two were excused by peremptory challenges — one by the defense and one by the prosecution.

Now seated in the panel are Lester D. Culley, a retired radio engineer from Hollywood; Clarence Yaw, an oil company employee from Manhattan Beach; Miss Ruth A. Stillman, an insurance claims adjuster from Los Angeles; John Johnson, an industrial designer, and Mrs. Bertha Herschel, a widow from Los Angeles.

Although official court action appeared laboriously slow and dull, the gallery action sparked up Friday.

ONE disheveled gentleman was escorted quietly from the courtroom after he created a "minor disturbance" by talking too loudly and at one point "disturbing" the Sirhan family. The man, about 40, was admitted — as are all

Owners of the dairy, Edgar, Harold and Elmer Stueve, have filed a claim against the County Board of Supervisors — which backed the raw milk ban — and Dr. Heidbreder, the state Department of Agriculture and the State Department of Public Health. They claim the county's raw milk ban libeled its product.

2 Booked on Murder Suspicion

Witnesses to two brutal robbery-slayings Friday failed to identify a pair of suspects in a police line-up as south-central Los Angeles' much sought "homicidal maniac."

The suspects, Alonzo McConnell, 27, and Manson Williams, 34, were both arrested at their homes early Friday and booked on suspicion of the cold-blooded killings of four persons in two stabbings last week.

Detective Sgt. Lawrence Massero of the LAPD university division, commenting on the arrests, said that "it looks pretty good. We placed both of them in the area of the crimes."

But police said late Friday two persons who are believed to have seen the killer during or before the shootings failed to identify the suspects in a police show-up.

The victims of the shootings were killed Jan. 28 and 29 in the central Los Angeles area.

Shot to death in the first robbery, at Dreskin's Liquor Store, were owner Ben Dreskin, 53, and a customer, O. B. Hunt, 54.

The following night, Ryozo Devina, 63, and his wife, Misar, 56, who operated a small cafe, were gunned down during a robbery.

The same killer is believed to have killed a liquor store clerk in the city of Commerce in December.

All of the shootings took place at point blank range and were apparently senseless.

Remodel Justice Dept.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of General Services Friday awarded a $168,760 contract to Johnson-Sculpture Co. of Glendale to remodel the basement of the Junipero Serra Building in Los Angeles to provide a Southern California telecommunication center for the Department of Justice.

The divergent views were presented at the last of three hearings on recommended changes to strengthen California's 20-year-old Water Quality Control Act.

SKELETON legislation to strengthen the 1949 water act is to be introduced next week by Assemblyman Carley V. Porter, D-Compton, chairman of the Assembly Water Committee. His aides said detailed legislation would be introduced in March when a report is submitted to the state board.

A study panel of the Water Quality Control Board recommended a $6,000 fine for violators of pollution cease-and-desist orders — but the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Control Board said the fine should be raised to $100,000.

Fred H. Dierker, executive officer of the board, said polluters who defy the cease-and-desist orders beyond a 30-day period should be fined an additional 10 percent for each succeeding 30-day period where violations occur.

AT THE opposite pole, the California Manufacturers Association complained there was "little merit" in imposing civil fines since there has never been an attempt to use the courts "to delay water-quality action."

Robert E. Burt, director of air and water resources for the association, said the present system for water-quality control was designed to work out of court — and would be strengthened in the proposed legislation.

Veneman to be Finch Aide, Wield Broad Power in HEW

From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — Health Education and Welfare Secretary Robert Finch Friday introduced California Assemblyman John G. Veneman as his deputy and made it clear that he will have broad powers in the department.

Finch admitted he had been under heavy pressure from California not to make the Veneman appointment, announced earlier Friday by President Nixon.

Both Finch and Nixon praised the 43-year-old Veneman's expertise in the fields of health care, welfare and taxation as a seven-year member of the state Assembly from the Modesto area.

Veneman, a peach grower, has spent most of the past two months here helping Finch organize the transition in HEW leadership.

Finch still hasn't filled a number of top posts in his department, but is expected to do so next week.

ASK $100,000 PENALTY

Conflict on Fines for Fouling Water

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Civic and public agencies demanded up to $100,000 fines for polluting California waters Friday while a leading business group said fines were completely unnecessary.

The divergent views were presented at the last of three hearings on recommended changes to strengthen California's 20-year-old Water Quality Control Act.

SKELETON legislation to strengthen the 1949 water act is to be introduced next week by Assemblyman Carley V. Porter, D-Compton, chairman of the Assembly Water Committee. His aides said detailed legislation would be introduced in March when a report is submitted to the state board.

A study panel of the Water Quality Control Board recommended a $6,000 fine for violators of pollution cease-and-desist orders — but the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Control Board said the fine should be raised to $100,000.

Fred H. Dierker, executive officer of the board, said polluters who defy the cease-and-desist orders beyond a 30-day period should be fined an additional 10 percent for each succeeding 30-day period where violations occur.

AT THE opposite pole, the California Manufacturers Association complained there was "little merit" in imposing civil fines since there has never been an attempt to use the courts "to delay water-quality action."

Robert E. Burt, director of air and water resources for the association, said the present system for water-quality control was designed to work out of court — and would be strengthened in the proposed legislation.

But representatives of the Fish and Game Department and the Save the American River Association, who urged higher fines, indicated that $6,000 was too small a fine to deter pollution by large industries.

"When you're dealing with large industries and large investments in waste treatment facilities, a penalty of a few thousand dollars is infinitesimally small in comparison to the costs of treating wastes to bring them up to standard," said J. C. Fraser, chief of the Water Projects Branch of the Fish and Game Department.

James C. Mullaney, president of the river association, warned that seasonal industries such as canneries "might happily pay such $6,000 penalties rather than install necessary equipment to handle their peak loads."

The hearing dwelled on bureaucratic infighting with most groups generally endorsing the study panel's proposals. However Langdon Owen, representing the Orange County Water District, charged that the panel had not accomplished its task of comprehensively reviewing water quality control laws.

"Instead," he said, "the report which has been presented has merely recommended modifications to the regulatory agencies' responsibilities involved in water quality control."

Owen urged the panel to recommend "a positive program relating to the development of a state water quality control plan," including specific plans for regions or watersheds to the Legislature.

DEATH STAY ASKED

The California Supreme Court was asked Friday to stay the execution of Robert Lee Massie, 27, of Los Angeles, for a hearing on his sanity.

He is to die in San Quentin's gas chamber March 12.

MASSIE said in September 1967 he wanted no more legal efforts to halt his execution.

His sentence was stayed, however, during a mass challenge against California's death penalty procedures.

A 4-3 State Supreme Court decision last Nov. 18 upheld the death penalty as constitutional.

The habeas corpus petition for Massie was filed by attorneys for the Legal Defense Fund of the Advancement of Colored People and the American Civil Liberties Union, who undertook the blanket challenge against the death penalty.

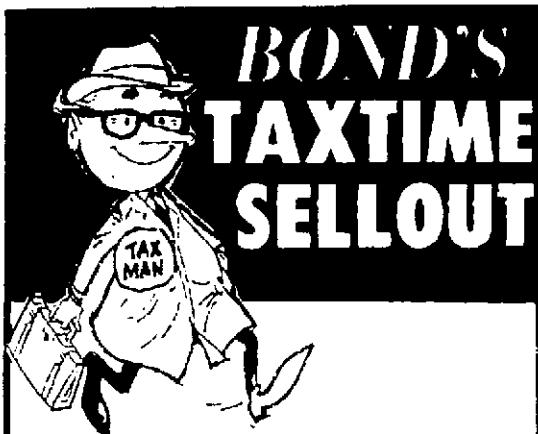

Massie was sentenced on his plea of guilty to the 1965 killing of a Los Angeles woman during a robbery.

The petition contends that Massie's declaration that he wants no more legal delay in his execution is without effort if he is found insane.

THE PETITION asked also that Massie's execution be stayed until appeal could be carried to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The petition renewed the argument in the mass constitutionality challenge that California is obligated to provide precise standards for imposing the death penalty. It said the lack of such standards constitutes cruel and unusual punishment.

4,000 barrels of the heavy mud to well site.

"Weather permitting and with any luck at all in getting the mud pumped down-hole they should have the boil-up contained within 24 hours," Brock said.

In other related developments Doug Bombard, operator of the Catalina Cove and Camp Agency on Catalina Island, told the I.P.T. Friday night he had flown over the spreading oil slick at noon.

"The wind was blowing the oil northward and away from the shoreline," he reported.

He SAID the Catalina Island Company, fearful the oil might drift southward and wash ashore on the island, had ordered syrofoam floating booms to be installed to protect Cat Harbor on the seaward side of the island and at Fisherman's Cove, new Island home of the University of Southern California's marine science center.

Bombard reported that as of noon on Friday the leading edge of the oil slick had reached a point offshore from the naval air station at Port Hueneme.

Meanwhile, two major oil producing companies operating in the Santa Barbara Channel agreed to comply with Interior Secretary Walter Hickel's mandatory ban on all offshore drilling in the area pending a safety check.

The secretary had asked for a voluntary halt to all offshore drilling earlier in the week after making a personal inspection of the oil-spotted coastline.

He later rescinded the order.

The half-drilling order was reinstated by the secretary in telegrams sent to the companies currently conducting drilling operations on federally-leased tidelands beyond the three-mile state-controlled boundary.

FRED HARTLEY, president of Union Oil Company, said he agreed with the secretary's drilling ban.

"There now is an apparent disagreement between state and federal authorities on proper drilling practices in federal offshore leases in the Santa Barbara Channel," Hartley said.

A thorough review of all regulations, including safety features is in order," Union's chief executive claimed.

As globs of the black goo slopped ashore along stretches of some of California's most scenic beaches, Gov. Ronald Reagan welcomed President Richard Nixon's offer of federal troops to assist in the cleanup of the blackened shoreline.

The governor said the troops would offset a major "manpower problem."

In conversations with Secretary Hickel during his recent aerial inspection of the stricken area, Gov. Reagan observed the newly-named secretary expressed dismay the federal regulations for offshore drilling were "one third as effective" as those California requires within the three-mile limit.

THE GOVERNOR reported Hickel had stated he (the secretary) sees no reason why the federal regulations shouldn't be "upgraded."

"Regarding a recent state attorney general's suit to compel stronger federal regulations, the governor said he did not have all the facts yet but was certain he would "very soon."

"After all," he pointed out, "that's the attorney general's function to act as the people's lawyer and these are our beaches that are being smeared with this oil scum."

The governor claimed the oil slick was a federal problem — not a state one, because Union was operating on a federal lease beyond the control of the state.

Reagan said he had previously proposed establishment of a federal fund to meet such emergencies and to help pay for damage and clean up operations.

SUCH A FUND would have to come from an arrangement among the oil companies, the individual property owners and the federal government," Reagan contended.

While state and federal officials argued about responsibility for the subsurface oil blowout, Los Angeles County counsel's office hand-delivered a tartly-worded communiqué to Union's president Hartley to the effect the county intends to hold the oil company liable "for any and all damages, costs and other expenditures."

And in Santa Barbara two law firms filed a $1.3-billion law suit against Union and three corporate partners on behalf of all persons who have suffered alleged damage resulting from the underwater eruption, including a legal secretary "representing those who enjoy the amenities of the beach and coastline for aesthetics and the pleasure of walking on the beaches and swimming in the surf."

"It's absurd that drilling should continue in state-controlled waters off Santa Barbara while drilling operations are under at least suspension in federal waters," Unruh told students at Ventura College.

The Inglewood Democrat said preservation of Southern California's beach and protection of ocean wildlife are "far more important to us than the dollar the state receives in tidelands oil revenues."

The state has jurisdiction over all drilling within three miles of shore. Drilling beyond the three-mile limit is regulated by the federal government.

Urge Profs to Strike Statewide

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Teachers at California's 18 state colleges were urged by the State College Academic Senate Friday to protest the firing of 199 faculty members at San Francisco State College.

The one-day strike was called after a meeting of the senate's executive committee. Earlier the full senate authorized a walkout if any faculty members were dismissed for going on strike.

IT WOULD be the first walkout of any kind called by the senate, official representative of faculties of all state colleges.

A strike called at the colleges Jan. 22 by the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers was largely ignored.

The senate is not supporting the strike of the union at San Francisco State, a spokesman said, but only the right of faculty members to strike.

S. I. Hayakawa, acting San Francisco State president, said 199 faculty members were being fired for unexcused absences but would be rehired if they applied.

The senate executive committee made plans to poll faculties on whether the 1,300 teachers want collective bargaining.

Unruh Asks State Halt Oil Drilling

VENTURA (UPI) — Assembly Democratic Leader Jess M. Unruh Friday night urged the state to order a halt to all oil drilling under its control in the Santa Barbara Channel to match the drilling suspension in federal waters.

"It's absurd that drilling should continue in state-controlled waters off Santa Barbara while drilling operations are under at least suspension in federal waters," Unruh told students at Ventura College.

The Inglewood Democrat said preservation of Southern California's beach and protection of ocean wildlife are "far more important to us than the dollar the state receives in tidelands oil revenues."

The state has jurisdiction over all drilling within three miles of shore. Drilling beyond the three-mile limit is regulated by the federal government.

Cranston for Tighter Oil Curbs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)

— Sen. Alan Cranston, Calif., said Friday that oil drilling in the federal domain should be halted until ways are found to avoid costly and avoidable mistakes.

He referred to the eruption Jan. 28 of an undersea oil gusher at a Union Oil drilling site off Santa Barbara.

Cranston suggested the federal government adopt the strict California standards controlling oil drilling and exploration.

The freshman senator then turned his attention to Vietnam.

"I AM very unhappy with the whole proceedings," he told newsmen, referring to the Paris peace talks and the war effort in Vietnam.

Challenge to All Told by Muskie

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

A Democratic Issues Conference cheered Sen. Edmund S. Muskie Friday night for his advocacy of popular election of the President and for lowering the voting age to 18.

Muskie, Democratic vice presidential candidate last year, also told about 600 at the session in Rodger Young Auditorium in Los Angeles, that current protest, dissent and even occasional violence are "healthy" in that they are "manifestations of the problems with which we must deal."

HE SAID "change is the essence of today. And change troubles no one so much as those who are comfortable where they are."

No one was listening to anyone else in 1968, Muskie said. This self-styled mantle of infallibility, he added, "this kind of intolerance, was one of the great dangers of 1968 and of the future."

Challenging all Americans to political commitment, the Maine senator said the question he asks the young people on campuses today is whether their concern over immediate reforms "is of sufficient intensity and sufficient duration to take us through to the final implementation of those reforms."

Mitchell, who has taught at a school near Santa Maria since his firing, said he would return to the patrol.

Robert L. Hill, the hearing officer, said the Highway Patrol failed to establish its charges that Mitchell "staked out bars" to make drunken driving arrests or that he patrolled in Santa Maria against the orders of the Santa Maria station commander, Lt. Don. M. Thobe.

ROGERS REVEALS

Major Global Role to State Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Friday President Nixon has handed the State Department "a central and dynamic role" in handling of international security affairs.

"The President has assigned to the Department of State authority and responsibility to the full extent permitted by law for the over-all direction, coordination and supervision of interdepartmental activities of the U.S. government overseas," Rogers said.

Rogers' statement was issued by the State Department as it made public Nixon's new blueprint for the National Security Council, the White House strategy unit operating under the President.

ROGERS, by implication, disputed reports that Nixon's security council staff, headed by adviser Henry M. Kissinger, was elbowing the State Department out of foreign affairs.

Nixon told newsmen Thursday the secretary of state is his chief foreign policy advisor and foreign policy executor as well as a close personal friend, that both the State Department and the security council advise him, and that he as President will make the decisions.

Nixon administration officials have portrayed the reviving of National Security Council machinery, dormant during the Johnson administration, as a move for more orderly review and coordination of international affairs activities.

"I think the American people are saying something and the message is getting through," he said.

The comment was made at a news conference called for distribution of a six-paragraph statement on tax reform from Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy. The secretary pledged that "tax reform and equitable tax administration will have a high priority" under President Nixon's leadership.

ties crossing department lines.

The President has affirmed the position of the secretary of state as his foreign policy adviser and his responsibility, in accordance with approved policy, for the execution of foreign policy," the circular said.

It noted the State Department's overseas authority does not cover U.S. military operations aboard. But it said U.S. ambassadors will "continue to be in charge" and will "exercise affirmative responsibility" for all U.S. government activities in the countries where they are stationed.

U.S. Tax Reforms Predicted in 1969

WASHINGTON (AP) — Significant changes in the federal income tax are likely to be enacted this year because the chorus of public complaint is rising and cannot be ignored, a Treasury spokesman said Friday.

"We're not ready to go into any specifics," he said. But the administration hopes to have some proposals ready before the end of House Ways and Means Committee tax hearings that will open Feb. 18, he said.

The hearings will cover a broad range of tax reform ideas, many of which bear the stamp of the committee chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark.

FIND ESCAPE HOLE AT SAN QUENTIN

SAN QUENTIN (UPI) — San Quentin officials Friday announced discovery of an escape tunnel carved with enormous energy but leading nowhere.

The tunnel began in a cell in the massive east cell block with a 12-by-14-inch hole through the reinforced concrete floor. The floor was so strong it took guards 40 minutes with an air hammer to enlarge the hole enough to investigate.

The hole opened into a shaft three feet wide which dropped down six feet were Associate Warden James Park said, "We struck water."

The guards also found the bottoms of 47 pant legs, apparently tied into bags to carry out excavated material, a newspaper dated last August — and some metal punches apparently used as chisels to painstakingly cut the way.

Prisoners who had been assigned the cell were interrogated, but their names were not revealed.

Park said the tunnel appeared to have been abandoned. Its narrow entrance had been plastered with cement and the tunnel was discovered during a routine tapping of the floor by guards. The tap produced a hollow noise.

"We never thought tunneling was a very profitable enterprise around here," Park said.

The east cell block is built on rock containing tide water in some areas. Once out of the block, a prisoner would still need to get over a fence in view of gun towers.

Shaw Trial Witness Tells of JFK Plot

New York Times Service
NEW ORLEANS — A New York accountant testified Friday he had heard Clay L. Shaw at a French Quarter party in June 1963 casually discuss assassinating President Kennedy.

But the impact of the testimony was lessened considerably when the witness, Charles P. Spiesel, acknowledged that during 1963 he had been hypnotized by New York City policemen and others as part of a Communist conspiracy.

Spiesel, who said his troubles seemed to stem from undercover work his father had been doing for the Federal Bureau of Investigation "against the Russians," said he also had been "hypnotized or tortured" by a psychiatrist and by members of the firm of certified public accountants he had worked for.

THE ACCOUNTANT'S testimony, which aroused the courtroom until Spiesel was cross-examined, had been preceded by that of a heroin addict who claimed to have seen Shaw consorting with Lee Harvey Oswald.

Spiesel said his meeting with Shaw came in the summer of 1963 when he came to New Orleans from New York with the idea of settling there.

Russ Envoy Warns Bonn

of Election

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet Ambassador Semyon Tsarapkin warned in a newspaper interview published Friday that Moscow will take "serious measures" if the West German electoral college meets in West Berlin on March 5 to elect a new president of the federal republic.

The West German newspaper Koelnische Rundschau said Tsarapkin was interviewed Thursday night in Stuttgart after he met West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt at a nearby Black Forest resort.

The West German Foreign Ministry said Tsarapkin delivered a Soviet note demanding Bonn sign the treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons and discussed "other matters" with Brandt, who is recuperating from an attack of pleurisy.

The newspaper said Tsarapkin refused to confirm the forthcoming West German presidential elections in West Berlin was among the topics discussed. But when asked Moscow's reaction to the planned session, it quoted him as saying:

"The Soviet Union will not accept this . . . The Soviet Union will react with serious measures."

REACTION TO NIXON'S STATEMENT

Russ Warm to Summit Idea

New York Times Service

MOSCOW — Soviet authorities reacted favorably Friday to President Nixon's plans to explore the possibility of an eventual summit meeting with the Soviet Union after his West European trip this month.

The principal Moscow newspapers published a 200-word summary of the President's news conference Thursday prepared by the Washington Bureau of Tass, the Soviet press agency.

The Tass dispatch quoted Nixon as having said he intended to conduct "exploratory talks at various levels to see if such a (summit meeting) could take place."

* * *

A SOVIET newspaper editor who was asked to comment Friday on the President's statement said privately that, in principle, he did not expect the Kremlin to be opposed to the idea of a summit meeting.

"The matter has not yet been seriously discussed in our government," he said, "but it seems to me, as an outside observer, that there is a possibility of arranging such a meeting."

He added that the long-delayed issue of a limitation on offensive and defensive missiles might be a topic for summit talks.

If such a conference were arranged, Nixon would be faced on the Soviet side by President Nikolai V. Podgorny and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Leonid I. Brezhnev, as head of the Communist Party, would not normally

Bomb Hurts 6 in Theater at Fort Ord

FORT ORD (UPI) — A homemade bomb exploded in the crowded main theater at this Army base Friday night, injuring six persons.

An Army spokesman said five persons suffered superficial injuries and one had a heel blown off. About 400 servicemen and their dependents were in the audience at the time.

The bomb exploded about 10 rows from the screen. Witnesses said there was no fire or panic as the patrons left through exits.

The spokesman called the bomb a "mamade infernal device." Army ordnance experts began investigation.

PARIS (UPI) — Robert S. McNamara, president of the World Bank and former U.S. secretary of defense, arrived Friday on a brief stopover en route to Dakar, Senegal.

be expected to participate in discussions at the government level.

The brief initial Soviet report of the President's news conference was of interest because the highly selective manner in which the press here treats foreign statements reflects Soviet attitudes.

In addition to the comment on possible summit talks, the Tass summary said Nixon would be accompanied on his West European trip by Secretary of State William P. Rogers and by Henry A. Kissinger, the national security adviser.

In the absence of a fully formulated policy of the new administration, the Soviet press has been carefully analyzing statements made at various times by the President's news associates. The reaction to views expressed by Rogers and by Kissinger have generally been more favorable than to the position of Melvin R. Laird. Ratification has been delayed by the adverse reaction in the U.S. to the Soviet-led military intervention in Czechoslovakia last August.

The Soviet summary of Thursday's news conference noted that Nixon's visit to five West European countries was intended to "strengthen and revitalize" the North Atlantic alliance.

Navy Reveals It Has New Destruction Systems on Ships Since Pueblo's Loss

By JACK V. FOX

CORONADO (UPI) — The U.S. Navy since the loss of the USS Pueblo has installed new destruction and scuttling systems aboard its ships and secret documents are printed on water-soluble paper, it was disclosed Friday.

Capt. John Williams, on the security staff of the chief of naval operations in Washington, told a court of inquiry that the new systems were largely motivated by the experience with the Pueblo.

However, Williams was critical of Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, the skipper of the Pueblo.

The process of destroying classified documents aboard ships such as the Pueblo, even under fire, should be completed in one hour, Williams said.

* * * * *

THE Pueblo failed to destroy all of its documents although it had more than two hours in which to do so.

E. Miles Harvey, the civilian counsel for the 41-year-old Bucher, asked Williams whether he would put the destruction of classified material above the lives of a ship's crew.

"That is a matter of judgment," said Williams. "I would point out the definition of top-secret — material which could in unfriendly hands cause great damage to the nation. The regulation provides that the commander should do all that is humanly possible to prevent such an occurrence."

Williams was the first officer from Washington to appear before the five-admiral board.

* * * * *

VICE Adm. Harold G. Bowen Jr., president of the court, said it appeared to him that prior to the Pueblo incident the Navy in all its technological advances did not seem "to have gone far past the Stone Age in the ability to destroy material."

Williams listed all the difficulties of destruction aboard a ship, including safety considerations, the resistance of bulk paper to burning, and other factors.

The Navy now has a system for destruction of material and equipment and deliberate sinking of certain ships. Williams did not say which ships had been so provided.

Documents are being produced on paper that will dissolve when thrown over the side into the sea.

"Did it take a Pueblo to spur this to fruition?" Bowen asked.

* * * * *

"THE program was begun after the Pueblo incident," Williams acknowledged.

He said he felt the top-secret documents aboard the Pueblo could have been placed in one compartment, doused with gasoline and diesel oil and set afire, no matter what the consequences.

He said the documents could have been destroyed in an hour if all emergency means were used.

Navy regulations permit shredding documents and throwing them over the ship at dusk, he said.

Rear Adm. Edward E. Grimm said: "That makes it a little difficult if it is not dusk, doesn't it?"

Williams did not reply.

WILLIAMS was asked how such a tremendous volume of paper accumulated on such a small ship and why it was necessary to have them. He said Navy regulations provided that certain publications be sent to every ship, which was one reason so much accumulated aboard the Pueblo.

He was asked whether there was not some system within the Navy to regulate the flow of material to small ships, and replied that there was not.

A stiff, erect officer who reeled off figures and information computer-style, Williams also came up with a wry sense of humor.

Harvey was questioning him about Bucher's attempt to obtain kegs of TNT explosive before sailing to use for destruction purposes. The Pueblo skipper was unable to get them.

* * * * *

WILLIAMS was asked whether he had ever heard of putting TNT aboard a ship for that reason. He said he had not, except in the case of the Pueblo.

Bucher, a former submarine officer, has testified it was carried aboard subs for that purpose.

"Do you have any experience with submarines?" Williams was asked.

"No," said Williams.

At that point, he was pouring himself a glass of water from a pitcher. It brimmed over onto the table and ran into his lap.

"Do you think you would have survived if you had tried?" Harvey asked.

"No, sir," said Wadley.

Williams testified for an hour and a half in closed session later, primarily concerning classified destruct and scuttling devices.

He said he knew of no ongoing destruct system in the Navy prior to the Pueblo incident other than in aircraft. He showed slides of subsequent Navy systems, some for use in ships.

JAVITS HITS 'VOLUNTEER ARMY'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits asked Friday for reforms in the draft law but opposed an all-volunteer Army on the ground that it might become involved in politics.

The New York Republican can tell the Senate:

"A voluntary Army would be a mercenary Army. It would be in danger of getting into politics."

President Nixon campaigned on a pledge to try setting up an all-volunteer Army when the Vietnam war ends.

Javits supported Senate Republican whip Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania in a bill to form a commission to study the idea of the volunteer army and the draft.

But he told the Senate Friday while introducing his reform bill:

"Until more is known about an army of volunteers, the draft must be continued."

Javits' measure is designed to halt massive drafting of graduate students scheduled within the next few months. He said this callup "now threatens irreparable damage to the universities and the armed services themselves."

Graduate schools will be emptied by such a callup, he said, and the military, "which prefers 18-and 19-year-olds," would also be harmed.

Javits' 12-point reform bill would reverse the present order of call, establishing 19-year-olds as the prime selection group, instead of inducting men aged 26 first and working downward.

The New York senator also proposed:

"Use of a lottery to select persons from the prime selection group."

"To permit, but not require, student deferments in peacetime. Deferments would be granted not only to students at four-year colleges, as under present law, but to those in junior colleges, community colleges, technical and vocational schools and apprenticeship training programs."

— Granting student and occupational deferments on a uniform basis throughout the nation.

The 1967 amendment to the Selective Service Act, Javits noted, restricted conscientious objector status to those whose pacifism is based on conventional religious training or beliefs. He urged repeal of the amendment.

However, Javits said he opposes the increasingly popular concept among draft resisters of discriminatory pacifism — that is, opposing a specific war in contrast to opposition to all war.

"This concept could lead to anarchy," he said.

PRISCILLA'S POP

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY

Your birthday today! Service and dedication increasingly fill your daily living. In the coming year, opportunity for personal progress is ever present in small ways. You are more open to new ideas than indicated. Social and emotional contacts become intense. Today's natives usually have great energy, indulgence or obesity. Friendships are readily developed by them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Your energy exceeds your chances for its expression, so concentrate on economic rather than voluntary physical activities like running from room to room.

TAURUS (April 20-May 19): The rest of the world is easier to cope with today than family, friends. Souffles start easily. Your duties to older people become very important now and are not to be taken lightly.

GEMINI (May 20-June 21): Your neighborhood is the most enviable today. Turn out early with your family and friends to do very well. Patience is the key to success.

CANCER (June 22-July 23): At a time when you have the least freedom to show response, stress arises from the least expected directions. You will have to be more flexible. You will have time later for personal matters.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23): Look about your home and friends for today's rewards. Much challenge is met there. And much to gain in meeting those. Group programs are favored.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): This day is best begun with an expression of your personal faith. Review your recent progress, and take counsel from associates who have interests of heart. Details are important.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Personal relationships and financial counts of vantage are indicated to be within reach of improvement. Don't take sides, any one of which may be a detriment to the community even at the expense of being away from your accustomed rounds.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You thrive outdoors today other factors permitting. If you can go very far, enjoy your local area. Some trouble may be at hand for your long and careful thought.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your best efforts produce halting results now. Partners or old friends come in to help you with external pressures you had not expected.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Return to those who have stuck with you through adversity and who understand you well enough to accept your personal failings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Today you begin a long series of growth-changes. It is a time in your life when subtle catalytic stimuli are at work. Even though you are not fully aware of it, you have come to hold a different viewpoint.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): This is one of the rare moments when hidden truth is near the surface. Find satisfaction with insights you haven't had the time to follow lately.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (UPI) — As a small lad in Chicago, Bob Fosse liked to entertain visitors to his family home by putting on an act he called "Tarzan Wrestling the Lion."

"I was pretty obnoxious, I guess," he recalled with a grimace. "I shaved our colt to make him look more like a lion. Then I hid some ketchup behind a chair and doused myself with it in the middle of the act."

After watching this bloody living room drama several times, Bob's father, a salesman who had spent a year as a vaudeville singer earlier in life, decided his son was destined for show business. So he sent Bob to dancing school at the age of 8.

Today, at 40, Fosse, who first led a children's troupe then served his apprenticeship on the night club circuit, is one of the

For the four years in which Pauley Pavilion has been the playground of UCLA's basketball team, visiting coaches have hinted privately that the arena is populated by a den of snakes, including some wearing striped shirts.

Winter had not displayed tenderness and love for officials Frank Fidler and Robert Herrold during the game, and was asked if he was particularly upset with the referees' failure to call goal-tending on UCLA's Lew Alcindor on a few occasions.

"Yes, I was," exploded Winter. "I thought Lew had three goaltends and three charging fouls in the first half, and the officials called them all the other way."

"They (the Bruins) are going to be awfully hard to beat here if they continue to get that kind of protection."

Winter departed for the Husky dressing quarters, but shot back over his shoulder: "I don't know if

DIANE LEARNS IT'S STILL A MAN'S WORLD

Combined News Services

Alas, teenage jockey Diane Crump has learned thoroughbred racing is a man's world.

Finally securing the cooperation of a male jockey contingent at Hialeah, to become the first female to ride in bigtime competition 20-year-old Diane started in the seventh race and finished 10th. She has some consolation. There were two grooms chasing her — in 11th and 12th place.

As if a girl rider were not enough of a shock to the crowd in sunny Florida Friday, Irish Whirl amazed the throng with a $230.20 for $2 return by winning the ninth race.

The track bugler, who usually limits his efforts to blasting out the call-to-post, gave Miss Crump a big sendoff by playing, "My Diane."

"It felt real good. I felt like a regular pock out there," said the willowy jockey as she slid in her red and white silks from Bridle 'N Bit, a claiming horse owned by owner-trainer Tom Calumet and making his first start in allowance company.

Asked if she planned to go on with a jockey career, Diane answered, "I sure do — you bet. The hard part is over now."

The 20-year-old Miss Crump became the first female to ride at any major U.S. track when she climbed aboard the 45-to-one shot in the seventh race, a mile and one-eighth contest.

An experienced exercise rider of the temperamental thoroughbreds, Miss Crump broke Bridle 'N Bit, a $5,500 claiming horse, in second place from the No. 2 post. She made no visible mistakes but by the half-mile pole the three-year-old colt was dead last.

Turning into Hialeah's longstretch, the 105-pound jockey applied her whip vigorously and managed to beat two others in the field. Ronny's Shield, far in the front, won the race for a $10.20 payoff.

As she returned her horse to the paddock, the crowd of 15,701 cheered and applauded. Smiling, she dismounted and began walking away without unsaddling her horse for the wright-in. "I wasn't nervous," she said. "I got off and they just dragged me away. I didn't forget."

Man the Waterwings, Beach Runners Vie

By ALLEN WOLFE

While Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel and officials of the Union Oil Co. continue their battle with oil seepage, a conflict of a different sort will take place today on the sands of Long Beach.

More than 100 athletes will toe the mark at 10 a.m. for the running of the 13th Pacific Ocean Cross Country Championships, better known as the Beach Run.

Racing will be conducted at three distances during the two-hour morning session. The open individual four-mile comprising five divisions of runners will draw the most interest.

An anticipated field of 125 high school, junior college, university, club, and senior (over 40) distance men, ranging in age from 10 to 60, will pace themselves over the course which begins at the main lifeguard station at the foot of Cherry Ave.

The athletes will plot a course from the lifeguard station to Belmont Pier and return—then dash a mile toward the Long Beach Arena, and finally retrace their steps to finish at Cherry Ave. station.

Shoes will be conspicuously absent. All the runners will be aiming for the record of 21:13 set last year by Pasadena Nazarene College student Gary Hamilton, who is in the service and will not defend his title.

If one was to pick a favorite, it could be Maury Greer, former Lakewood High sensation, and now a freshman at Washington State University.

Another contender will be Bill Anderson, Long Beach resident affiliated with the Santa Barbara Athletic Club. Anderson won the Hermosa Beach five-mile beach run two weeks ago.

Today's darkhorse challengers could be a trio from the Seniors Track Club. Dr. John Pagliano, Phil Carlson and Bill Crum won the National Junior Marathon Meet in Palos Verdes on Dec. 3. Thirty-five Senior TC members will be represented.

Other clubs and schools entered include Cal State Long Beach, with Ron Kurre carrying the 49er colors; Long Beach City College, Valley State, Occidental, Culver City AC, So-Cal Striders, Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach, U.C. Redlands and the Pasadena AC.

Following the four-miler, a two-mile open high school race will take place at approximately 10:45. Final dash of the day is a Junior College-University four-man, four-mile relay at 11:15, with each athlete running one leg.

Threaten Young's Old Track Streak at Forum Tonight

By JOHN DIXON
Staff Writer

George Young, a fellow with a horseshoe on each foot, has put together the most remarkable streak in track and field history.

Tonight, it may end.

The Arizona school teacher will be challenged by an international field in the two-mile, feature event of the L.A. Indoor Games in the Forum.

Young has not lost a race at any distance, indoors or outdoors, since 1967—except in the steeplechase at the Olympic Games in Mexico City, when two altitude-acclimated Africans defeated him by a step.

It may take an indoor record to win.

Kerry Pearce of Australia holds the record of 8:27.2. Another Aussie, Kerry O'Brien, may be even tougher tonight. O'Brien finished a step behind Young in the Olympics, and he claims his finish kick matches Young's.

Other crack contenders are Ole Olson, USC; Stanislav Petr, Czechoslovakia; Arne Kvamli, Norway, and Doug Weibe, Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach.

Olympic titlists entered are Ralph Doubell of Australia in the 1,000, Bob Beaman in the long jump, Lee Evans in the 500, Willie Davenport in the hurdles, Irena Szewinska of Poland in the women's 300, decathlon winner Bill Toomey in the long jump and mile relay, Bob Seagren in the pole vault, and relay medalists Barbara Ferrell, Charlie Greene, and Ronnie Ray Smith in the dashes.

The mile is a Europe vs. U.S.A. affair. Perhaps officials should score it as a team race.

Jurgen May of West Germany, Jerzy Szordykowski of Poland and Olympian Josef Odlozil of Czechoslovakia will oppose U.S. Olympians Bob

Day and Wade Bell, and John Lawson of the PCC, who is in such fine fettle he might beat them all.

Meet sponsors announced that tickets will be on sale at the Forum.

A Poly High team of Howard Fluker, James Coates, Don Davis and Robert Stockton (James Harvey, alternate) is entered in the sprint relay.

Carola Goya of the Long Beach Comets goes in the women's 880, Glen Rouse of Jordan runs in the prep two-mile, in which Jim Chaffin of Poly is an alternate, and Cal State Long Beach will participate in the college mile relay.

east the proceedings. Only six of the 32 leaders in the standings will play at Indian Wells where the cameras are stationed.

Friday's competition was played in beautiful weather. In fact the only reminder of Thursday's storm, which almost washed out the second round, were the snow-capped San Jacinto and San Gorgonio mountains overlooking the Coachella Valley.

The four golfers closest to the two leaders at 209 are Frank Beard and Art Wall, who had 71's at Tamarisk; Gene Littler, who snapped back from a 74 Thursday for a 68 at Tamarisk; and Orville Moody, who shot a 68 at LaQuinta.

Moody is the ex-sergeant who spent 14 years in the Army, mostly managing service golf courses, before deciding to try his luck on the tour last year.

At 210 are Billy Casper, who had a 71 at LaQuinta, and the left-handed Bob Charles, who posted a 69 at Tamarisk.

Defending champion Ar-mold Palmer began a run after two average rounds with a 69 at LaQuinta for 214, eight strokes off the pace but still within striking distance with two big closing rounds.

Jack Nicklaus found LaQuinta a little rough and shot a 74 to drop back to 217, 11 strokes behind Funseth.

Tarbabs Tie Record

Compton High tied its own CIF consecutive win record Friday with a 78-44 win over Downey in Coast League basketball action at Compton High.

The Tarbabs have a chance to set a record as they go against the Dominguez Dons Tuesday at Compton's gym.

Marvin Milkes of the American League Seattle Pilots said he would plead with newly appointed baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn for a better position in June's free agent draft.

"I think we have been dealt with unfairly in the last free agent draft," said Milkes. "We were 24th in line. What's left is them?"

JERRY McCLARY of Denver fired a 300 game, but remained in last place among 16 semi-finalists in the Pro Bowlers Assn. $15,000 Denver Open, led by Dick Ritter of Hartford, Wis., with a 7,045 pin total. Mike Durbin of Burbank is second at 7,037.

DIANE TOWLER, 22, and Bernard Ford, 23, won their fourth European Ice Dancing Championship in a row at the European Figure Skating Championships to give Britain its 13th trophy since ice dancing was included in the program 15 years ago.

DONN CLENDON, the new Houston Astros first baseman, said the Pittsburgh Pirates "had as much talent as the Cardinals (St. Louis) and Reds (Cincinnati) last year, but we just couldn't jell." The Pirates finished sixth.

The 15-year-old blond from Rockford, Ill., registered 1,200 points in the free skating to edge out the former Canadian title-holder by the narrowest of margins, 2,215.5 to 2,214.1.

Peggy Fleming Enjoys Life as Pro Skater, but Not Hours

Peggy Fleming, the Olympic figure skating queen, enjoys her life as a professional, but she still isn't used to the hours.

"As an amateur, I would go to bed at 9:30 and get up at 5:30," she explained. "Skating in shows now, I go to bed about 3 a.m. and get up about 10:30."

The 20-year-old Miss Fleming received the Babe

Didrikson Zaharias Trophy, emblematic of her honor as the Associated Press Woman Athlete of the Year in 1968.

Receiving the award from George Zaharias on Friday, the petite blonde declared, "This is one of my greatest thrills. I just hope I can do as much for skating as Babe did for golf."

The trophy was established by Zaharias in 1956, honoring the memory of his wife who six times had been voted the AP award which itself dates back to 1931.

Miss Fleming currently stars in the Ice Follies. She said she doesn't miss amateur competition.

Still, she attended the United States national figure skating championships at Seattle last week and will see some of the action at the North American championships at Oakland this weekend.

"I do miss the kids I skated with," she admitted.

Big Power Boats in 2-Day Race

Southern California's fast-growing fleet of offshore power boats gets the racing jump on the rest of tles, five league championships, including the last three in a row, and the first two Super Bowls.

He did it, however, in different circumstances than exist now.

That is not to say the Redskins don't have the same potential—for there is legitimate talent on a team with such names as Sonny Jurgensen and Charlie Taylor.

The means to build as quickly, and maintain once built, however, are not the same.

When Lombardi conducted his first draft and tapped a guy named Boyd Dowler there were only 12 teams vying for talent among the colleges. Now there are 26.

Where Lombardi was able to get every 12th best player in the country—in his first three drafts he selected such people as Dowler, Bob Jeter, Herb Adderley, Ron Kostelnik, Elijah Pitts—he now must settle for every 26th.

In addition, the recent expansion drafts stocking the new Atlanta and New Orleans club have further thinned talent.

And when Lombardi finally had built, and wanted to maintain, he was able to play the future market, selecting a player such as Donny Anderson who still had a year of college eligibility left and wait for him to finish.

Now futures cannot be drafted.

The event's emphasis will be as much on experimentation and later race preparation as on the racing—except for Nordskog and Cooper, close personal friends who manage to forget that relationship once the starter waves his green flag.

Nordskog is a traditionalist. Holocaust is a 28-foot Thunderbird Formula hull pushed by a pair of 439-cubic inch Nordskog Marine engines.

Cooper is an innovator who has enraged Florida offshore racers on visits foot hull built by Rudy there by introducing smaller, outboard-powered boats of frequently daring design. Spooky Too, a 22-foot hull built by Rudy Ramos, Rayson Craft company of Gardena, is almost submerged sitting dead in the water, but knifes swiftly through even the most punishing oceans when her three 125-horsepower Mercury outboards go into action.

Competition will also be heavy in the Pacific Offshore Power Boat Racing Assn.'s two new classes—for the big, family-style cruisers and for smaller development class boats.

The fleet will race toward the west end of Catalina, around the island and then into Avalon Harbor today, a 60-mile course. Sunday, the fleets will leave Avalon at 10 a.m. for Ship Rock near the Avalon Isthmus, then will zoom back toward Belmont Shore Pier for the final 44 miles of the race.

The High Sierra and Southland ski areas report some of the best ski conditions of the winter.

Local resorts report two-to-three feet of new snow over an icy base.

The road to Mt. Baldy is closed due to mudslides but is expected to be cleared by Feb. 15. The Angeles Crest Highway is expected to open today.

'PROPHETIC ROLE FOR CHRISTIANS'*Youth Evangelists Leader Views the Campus Scene

By LES RODNEY

One of the less publicized organizations on the college campuses these tumultuous days is the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

"Actually," says Paul Gibson, staff member for the Long Beach area, "most organizations on campuses don't receive publicity in the general press."

"Except," he added with a smile, "BSU and SDS."

I-V, however, may be better known initials in many lands across the seas. Begun as a student revival movement at Cambridge in England in 1870, it was incorporated in the United States 40 years ago and is now the largest single source of Christian mission personnel on many American campuses.

Gibson reports some 50 members at Cal State-Long Beach, and functioning groups at City College, Compton, Harbor and Southwest. "We're working at Dominguez Hills," he notes.

Anglicans Favor Methodist Union

LONDON — Clergy and laymen of the Church of England have given substantial support to proposals to go ahead with the first stage of a union between the Anglican and Methodist churches.

The support was indicated by an advisory referendum taken at recent conferences of the 43 Anglican dioceses. The final vote on union will be taken simultaneously by the two denominations on July 8.

The Methodist Church said in a statement that it was "greatly encouraged" at the Anglican diocesan vote, especially that of the laity. Although only a guide, the voting has disclosed "a real climate of opinion in favor of unity," the Methodists said. They will seek similar expressions of opinion.

INTER-VARSITY Christian Fellowship is an evangelical, Bible-centered organization. It differs from other evangelical youth groups, Gibson explains, in being concerned only with the college campus and schools of nursing. Also, perhaps, by its "soft sell" approach. He himself, a Harvard graduate, is soft spoken and highly articulate, a combination not always easily found among young people with a message in 1969.

The Cambridge (Mass.) born evangelist defines the fellowship's aim as "to prepare Christian college students to relate their faith to others, to live as Christians."

By its very nature and goals, he amplifies, it is more scholarly than a dramatic or bombastic movement.

"Ours," he says, "is an intellectual group, rigorous in considering Scriptures. We study them to see what they have to say to us, to show us the areas from which to take our cues."

In addition to this orientation of inner individual depth, an I-V distinguishing characteristic is missionary emphasis. Some 9,000 students attended a triennial missionary conference in 1967. A strong ministry to international students in this country is a logical extension of its work.

"WE MAKE a special attempt to bring them into the fellowship," Gibson says. "This is one way to help prepare them to go back and be spiritual leaders in their own countries."

He detects signs of growing interest in the fellowship.

"With so much diversity of interest flowing on the campuses, there is an increasing desire among many students to become relevant as Christians . . . Christians in the true sense of the word, being involved redemptively. Hopefully, such students may help keep the communication channels open so things don't blow up. At UCLA, the group has played a meaningful role."

Gibson relates that he became personally involved as a Christian "only when I saw people trying to live the Gospels."

"I mean by loving others, and trying to correct injustices. This pointed me to the Scriptures. They became alive. To many people, the Bible is still just the good book."

As a Bible student, he sees no "either or" between social concerns and preaching the Word.

"For an evangelical Christian, practicing the Gospels should be as important, if not more important, than preaching. I believe Christ never distinguished between the two. He preached a gospel which is complete, which takes into consideration every aspect of a man's life. This is a valid way to approach today's problems on the campus. We must face up to things. In a Scriptural context, but face them, not ignore them."

As to how this places I-V in relation to student activism, demonstrations, demands by black students, etc.:

"I would say Christian students want constructive change, and can be out there demonstrating for it, in a law abiding, non violent way," was the reply. "Ours must always be a prophetic role, to dramatize injustice and work toward an honorable resolution."

And if the demonstration, as sometimes happens, moves out of the non-violent stage?

"I would see our influence as being on the side of Christian pacifism, in the classic tradition."

"AS A BLACK American, apart from his work with I-V, Gibson has his own personal insights and estimates of the demands and conduct of the Black Students Union.

"The opinion came during a discussion of a plan to place a brotherhood monument in the park.

"Christians and all liberal minded people must stay in this. The right-thinking white must help remove the weight of oppression by converting other whites, not by repressing blacks. Then there would be no need for the drastic actions we are seeing."

Gibson has been assigned to this area for a minimum of two years.

CONFIDENT LIVING

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A United States Congressman from the Midwest once became concerned about a younger member of the House of Representatives. This junior colleague was a bright young man, ambitious and energetic. But his voting on many issues was plainly determined by an anxiety to avoid offending special interests.

"You know as well as I do," the older man remonstrated with him one day, "that you should not have voted as you did on that bill. Why are you making such mistakes?"

The young man replied, "Don't you realize the pressures on me? I want to stay in office. I need the support. Don't you understand pressure?"

"Yes," said the older man, "I understand very well. Pressures are brought to bear on all of us. But look, son, where are your inner braces? Nothing is more important than to be decent, right and incorruptible. So, shore up your inner braces! Then you'll not need to yield to pressure, however strong."

AND THIS doesn't only apply to politicians. Each of us should ask himself, "Am I shored up inside? Are my inner braces in good shape? Am I equal to the pressures on me, or are they victimizing me? Do I have what it takes to handle the next crisis I am faced with?" If you do not get back from yourself a resounding "Yes," then you had better start developing those inner braces. There are ways of doing it.

At the National Retail Druggists Association I met George L. Scharringhausen, who told me about a period in his life when he suffered much stress and strain of daily activity. Day after day he was working long and late to meet the needs of many customers. The pressure never seemed to let up. Gradually he worked out a kind of mental formula by which he gained inner strength to match

The opinion came during a discussion of a plan to place a brotherhood monument in the park.

Religion Was the Key Factor in Pueblo Crew's Morale

Religious faith played a vital role in sustaining the crewmen of the Pueblo during 11 brutal months of imprisonment in North Korea. And the more the Koreans attacked religion, the tougher grew the crewmen's faith.

This is stressed in a report to American churches by Rear Adm. James W. Kelly, Navy chief of chaplains, entitled "Faith in a Stress Situation."

(Interestingly, while in Long Beach last July to dedicate the Naval Station's new Faith Chapel, Adm. Kelly in an interview with the I, P-T, stressed that inner resources must go along with military might in the defense of the country. He added, "A generation that plans for nothing higher than comfort or material security is a natural prey to the insidious corrosion of its strength and vitality." From the report on the Pueblo crew, it seems inner resources were not lacking!)

Only faith in God "kept me alive and sane during those lonely months," one of the Pueblo crewmen said.

Another said, "All we had left was religion."

And it surged stronger than ever, they related, in the face of stern attempts of their captors to eliminate any manifestations of it.

As a result of the crewmen's captivity, which included threats, beatings, fear and uncertainty, they "moved in the direction of a deeper religious commitment, greater faith and habitual prayer life," he said.

This happened to almost all of them, according to reports from chaplains with a team that met the men on their release and who talked with them intimately over a period of time afterward. Of their reactions under pressure of captivity, the admiral said: "Every effort to take away their faith in God only caused them to move in the direction of God. Every effort to subvert their faith only caused them to reaffirm it."

He said the Korean captors strove to prevent any vestige of religious expression among the prisoners, who talked with them intimately over a period of time afterward. Of their reactions under pressure with a rocket ... Every cross is an antenna for espionage."

One man was ordered out of a mess hall and furiously reprimanded for bowing his head over his food — potato soup and turnips. The men also were shown cartoons and other materials ridiculing religion.

Nevertheless, Adm. Kelly says, the captives managed to worship — to a far greater extent than they had ever done while they had been free to do so. They included Protestants, Roman Catholics and two Jews.

They had given up regular worship on board ship, he said, because of apathetic interest and small attendance, but once under captivity, their urge for it stirred them to enterprising, defiant improvisations.

Although without any of the usual aids to worship, not even a Bible, he said the men, by pooling bits of dimly remembered information, were able to compile a list of Biblical books, and write out various familiar passages, such as the 23rd Psalm and the 10 Commandments.

The situation, in a way, resembled ancient times when cherished Scripture or the words of Jesus were circulated by memory and word-of-mouth.

Kelly, a Southern Baptist, relates of the Navy group: "It seems everyone prayed openly before one another, although they had to avoid being seen in acts of worship by their captors."

One of the men said later, "I left religion out of my life when I joined the Navy ... It is going to be different now."

Kelly said this sentiment was "echoed time and again by these men."

One of them, Wayne Anderson, 26, wrote a letter home to his pastor, John Beach of the Healdsville Baptist Church, Waycross, Ga., saying that faith alone "kept me alive and sane."

"Many many times in that awful prison," he wrote, "I sat with my eyes closed and imagined myself sitting in our church. I could hear your sermons and I could hear the congregation singing the hymns I loved so very much ... Thank you all for giving me those memories. They kept me whole."

BOOKS

Our Presidents and Religion

GOD IN THE WHITE HOUSE: The Faiths of American Presidents. By Edmund Fuller and David E. Green. Crown, $5.95.

George Washington, in drawing up a treaty involving Mediterranean trade with the Moslem state of Tripoli in 1796, noted that "the government of the United States is not, in any sense, founded upon the Christian religion."

That may be a correct constitutional point, but the fact remains that U.S. political history has been wrapped in Christianity. Though their religious affiliations have varied widely, all 35 U.S. presidents have affirmed a belief in God, and each can be justly called a religious man.

While this is a book of the presidents' religious beliefs, it is more than that. It provides a close-up of their characters, and it underlines the fact that, while some presidents may have been short on prayer, the White House has yet to be occupied by the religious fanatic or the secret atheist.

Washington added to the prescribed oath of office, "So help me God," which became accepted for all presidents thereafter. Jefferson compiled his own private collection of the teachings of Jesus.

For the most part, the authors have avoided the easy temptation to express their own opinions. It is a thoroughly researched, excellent reference work. — Bud Worsham

Council Will Hear Airport Pros and Cons

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

At least a dozen speakers, most of them representing some organization, are expected to give their views Tuesday afternoon on the future of Long Beach Airport.

The occasion will be a special session of the City Council to discuss the Quinton Report on the airport, and recommendations of City Manager John R. Mansell.

The airport issue will start after a short meeting of the Long Beach Housing Authority, scheduled at 2 p.m.

Supporters and opponents of airport development have submitted requests for permission to address the council.

The main opposition to any commercial development at the airport is expected to come from the newly formed Long Beach Jet Control Association, which claims to represent more than 18,000 local residents.

EVERETT H. MILLER JR., association president, said the main speaker for the group would be attorney Joseph M. McLaughlin.

In a separate letter to the council, McLaughlin took strong exception to the Quinton Report, and said even the "so-called modest increase" in air traffic proposed by Mansell would be "intolerable."

Also opposing expansion of activity at the field will be the Wardlow Park Improvement Association, through its chairman, Mrs. Bennett A. Richards.

A presentation on behalf of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will be made by its president, John L. Barrett.

Last week three committees of the chamber recommended chamber directors reaffirm their support of "orderly and progressive" development of the airport.

The aviation industries, economic and industrial development, and local government affairs committees also urged support "in principle" of Mansell's recommendations, provided that general aviation at the local field is "encouraged rather than hindered."

A request for time also was filed by Pacific Air Transport, Inc., one of three air lines seeking State Public Utilities Commission certification of a route from Long Beach. T. J. Bodwell, president of PAT, said the presentation would be made by Thomas E. Hanson.

Several individuals asked permission to be heard, and additional requests were expected by the city clerk.

$6-Million Permits Issued to Thums

An end-of-the-year adjustment in valuations of building permits issued to Thums Long Beach Co. for its tidelands operations added more than $6.7 million Friday to the city's construction figure.

The Thums' permit jumped the 1969 valuation to more than $19 million, far ahead of the 1968 pace, which was only $9.2 million at the end of February.

Building permits issued to Thums are of two general categories: oil wells and all other construction.

Thums gets building permits for oil wells during the year as needed, and pays the city fees on the basis of a $10,000 valuation for each well.

Other construction, such as pipelines, tanks and concrete work, is considered additions to the main project, and so is covered by a single permit, normally issued at the end of a six-month or one-year period.

Each of the four oil islands and of two harbor-based drill sites is covered by a separate permit.

The total valuations of the permits issued Friday were: $1,659,724 for Island Grissom, $1,347,057 for Island White, $951,652 for Island Chaffee, $1,166,005 for Island Freeman, $1,494,976 for the Pier J site, and $152,786 for the Broadway-Mitchell Avenue site.

Plan 2nd CIL Show

By GEORGE LAINE
Staff Writer

The Long Beach Community Improvement League, disappointed but not discouraged by Sunday's poor turnout for the benefit celebrity showcase in Municipal Auditorium, will hold another—probably before the end of the year.

George Dillard, executive vice president and benefit chairman, said the League lost $407 on the one-night show starring Dinah Shore and O.C. Smith and featuring the talents of more than a dozen other performers.

"We had hoped the community would turn out for the program which, we felt, was so filled with stars no one would want to miss," Dillard said.

60 Math Whizzes Vie for Honors

Sixty Long Beach high school students will vie for awards today in the annual Mathematics Field Day on the Liberal Arts Campus of Long Beach City College.

Dr. Walter Albrecht of the California State College at Long Beach math department will speak on "The Mathematical Concepts of Infinity" during the field day.

The students, from five high schools, will take two hours of test competition for sophomores, juniors and seniors. Lakewood High School is the defending team champion.

Judges will be Professors Martin B. Farrell, Edward Franklin, Mrs. Irene Butterly and John Lenherl.

The field day is sponsored by the LBCC mathematics-engineering department and the college chapter of the American Association of Engineers.

Susano Flores, 72, of 419 S. Newhope St., Santa Ana, died in Orange County Medical Center at 1:30 a.m. Friday of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car Jan. 14.

Santa Ana police said Flores was walking across Newhope 286 feet north of Camille Way when hit by a northbound car driven by Larry C. Gibson, 22, of 1584 Saddle Circle, Fountain Valley. Gibson was not held. The accident occurred at 7:25 p.m., Thursday.

But, he added, the people of Long Beach misjudged the importance of the event to the League and the city.

"It suffices to say it would have been of benefit to the League," he said. But, he added, the League already has $34,000 of the $43,000 necessary to retire the mortgage on its headquarters at 555 E. Pacific Coast Highway.

"Realizing that non-profit corporations operate with outstretched hands, I convinced my colleagues

Judge Denies Recall Ban In Avalon

A bid for a preliminary injunction to block a Tuesday recall election against three Avalon city councilmen was rejected Friday by Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Jerry Pacht.

The judge — acting on a suit brought by restaurant owner Paul Myers — held although there may have been flaws in preliminary steps taken to set up the election, they were technical in nature.

The recall election, centering on acquisition of land for an airport in the Catalina Island city, is directed against councilmen Bill Krug, John Walker and Vincente Scaramucci.

The students, from five high schools, will take two hours of test competition for sophomores, juniors and seniors. Lakewood High School is the defending team champion.

Judges will be Professors Martin B. Farrell, Edward Franklin, Mrs. Irene Butterly and John Lenherl.

The field day is sponsored by the LBCC mathematics-engineering department and the college chapter of the American Association of Engineers.

Gen. Hershey 'Doesn't Like the Draft, but Must Get Men'

The man who runs the nation's draft — and says he disapproves of it — told an Anaheim audience Friday, "I'm only following orders."

"If the government needs men for its military forces, I have to supply them," Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey told the First Friday Friars club.

Although he claimed he had "no opinions" on whether the United States should be fighting in Vietnam, he warned Paris negotiators against "making peace too fast."

America has lost much military advantage by hastily accepted peace terms" in other wars, he said.

Hershey said he believes the concept of a better-paid volunteer Army as advocated by President Nixon, has much merit — although he has previously opposed such a force.

"The military needs status," he said.

"The service should be considered a profession — on a par with any other. It can be developed that way, and it will have enough volunteers — until there's an emergency."

The mystery shrouding the death of a man — killed by a bullet wound between his eyes — found floating in Alamitos Bay deepened Friday with the discovery of an abandoned car.

The small foreign sedan, registered to Robert M. Powell, 40, of Bell, was found in a parking lot at 72nd Place and Ocean Boulevard, giving investigators their first hint to the possible identity of the body found Monday.

Detectives are still awaiting results of a fingerprint comparison from the FBI laboratory in Washington, D.C., to provide positive identification.

THE BODY, which had been in the water about four weeks, was seen by a yachtsman near the Alamitos Bay Yacht Club.

Lifeguards, who pulled the body from the chill water, said the man was dressed in a black and brown striped shirt, dark slacks, with brown shoes.

Investigators said all identification had been removed from the victim's pockets.

A wallet and other papers belonging to Powell were found in the abandoned car.

Although officers tagged the death as suicide, attempts were being made to reconstruct the victim's last minutes to determine how he shot himself in the forehead, placed cartridges on the car seat and found his way to the bay.

DETECTIVE Sgt. Bob Dillon said several .32 caliber cartridges for an automatic pistol were found strewn about the interior of the car.

Death was caused by a single gunshot wound in the head from a small caliber weapon, police said.

However, Dillon said, no weapon was found, and investigators were unable to locate any blood spots in the car or on nearby rocks.

Meanwhile, officers are attempting to trace Powell's movements to establish a definite link between the dead body and the abandoned car.

prints to be compared with those belonging to the dead man.

Two-Car Crash Kills 4-Year-Old

A Tustin motocyclist and a 4-year-old Anaheim boy died Friday of injuries suffered in an Orange County traffic accident.

Dead are:

—James Patrick O'Shea, 38, of 1731 E. McFadden St., Santa Ana.

—Martin Guardada, 4, of La Habra.

Police said O'Shea was killed at First Street and Yerba Avenue in Tustin when he collided with an auto driven by Angelo Palomia, 51, of 14582 Acadia St., Tustin.

O'Shea was dead on arrival at Santa Ana Community Hospital at 8:30 p.m.

Officers said Palomia was not cited or held but the accident is under investigation.

The Guardada boy died in Anaheim Memorial Hospital from injuries suffered in a Thursday traffic accident near Fullerton.

Officers said the boy

Deputies said the child was playing with his cousin, Paul, 3, and a neighbor girl when he rode the tricycle into the pool and overturned the boy.

Attempts by firemen to revive Albert Williams of Artesia, were unsuccessful after the boy was retrieved from the water by his uncle, Russell Wooton, 53, of 4024 San Vicente St.

Deputies said the child was playing with his cousin, Paul, 3, and a neighbor girl when he rode the tricycle into the pool and overturned the boy.

Wooton rushed from the house when he heard the other children's cries for help and searched the murky water for several minutes before finding the boy.

Shop Expansion OK'd by Board

A special permit for Glenn E. Thomas Co. to expand its automobile body shop at 1215 Elm Ave. in the R-4 zone has been approved by the Planning Commission.

George Polhill, representing the auto agency, said the proposal was "merely an improvement and extension to the south of an existing body shop."

Robert Rand, of Los Angeles, who owns a 32-unit apartment at 1101 Elm Ave., opposed the permit on grounds it "paves the way for further commercial encroachment into a residential zone."

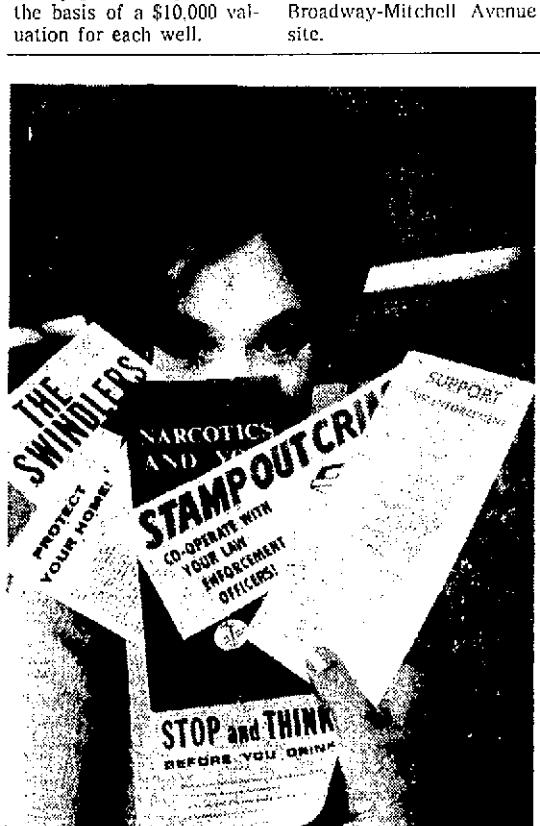

Polhill said, however, the plan would result in the shop having a solid wall facing the alley, where it now has an open door, and would actually be less noisy.

"I think this would definitely be an improvement from what it is today," commented Commissioner Arnold B. Berg, who said he owns rental property within half a block.

Rand said he still "objects in principle," but would be satisfied if the auto agency complied with the conditions set forth by the Planning Commission.

RETires AFTER 30 YEARS

Honor Fire Chief's Devotion

The state Assembly Rules Committee Friday commended former Long Beach Fire Chief Leonard Foster for "30 years of unstinting and devoted service to his community."

The department "benef-fited from the vitality and enthusiasm that Chief Foster engendered during his three decades of service," the resolution stated.

Under Chief Foster's tenure, the department grew from 12 to 22 fire stations, the resolution noted. The department now has 450 employees and a $5 million annual budget.

Foster, succeeded by Chief Tullio Rizzo after retiring last Dec. 31, joined the department in 1938. He was promoted to captain in 1945, fire marshal in 1950 and assistant fire chief in 1960. He became chief in 1961.

"Chief Foster, like his father before him, made the department his life's work . . ." the resolution noted.

He "consistently maintained a standard of excellence despite a rapid metropolitan growth and expansion."

VOTE DUE ON CREEK ROAD PAVING FUND

From Our L.A. Bureau

County supervisors will vote Tuesday on a proposed transfer of $37,720 for road paving along Compton Creek, which empties into the Los Angeles River in the Dominguez area.

The additional funds are needed, officials said, because the access road will have to be longer than originally planned. Money is available from the Bull Creek channel appropriation, which will cost less than expected.

$1.5 Million Storm Drain Contract OK'd

Kruse Construction Company has been awarded a $1,255,927 contract to build storm drains in the Compton-Gardena area. Work will begin within 30 days, according to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

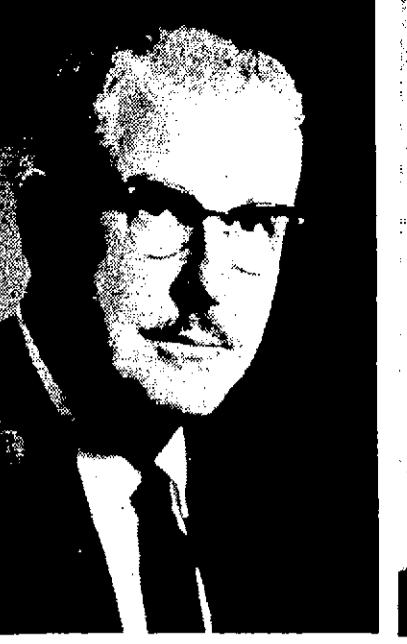

Included in the project will be sections of Avalon, Compton, Redondo Beach, Alondra and Gardena Boulevards; Parmelee and Roscrans Avenues; Main and Figueroa Streets and Broadway.

They have proposed that the "answer to call" rate be increased from $25 to $30 and that the waiting time per 15-minute periods be raised from $3 to $6.25. All other rates would remain the same.

FOR ADULTS ONLY

Parley on Drugs Set

A special program for adults only on the problems of teen-age drug abuse will be presented at 8 p.m. Wednesday at a meeting of the St. Anthony's Boys' High School Patrons Club at the school's cafeteria, Sixth Street and Alamitos Avenue.

Heading the panel will be Lt. James Miller, chief of the Long Beach Police Department's narcotics division; Sgt. Billie Joe Irwin, head of the department's juvenile narcotics detail; Dr. George Bryant, Long Beach physician and drug expert; and Porter Millican, deputy probation officer.

The panel will be moderated by Father John Breningham, a former Los Angeles Police Department officer who is currently administrator of the Eastern Orthodox Church's Diocese of Mexico. Father Breningham also is a clinical psychologist and teaches a psychology class at the University of California, Irvine.

Lt. Miller, named chief of the narcotics division five months ago, will present background material and explain police problems relating to narcotics.

He and Sgt. Irwin are graduates of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics' training school.

Dr. Bryant began working with the Long Beach Police Department in 1954 as police surgeon and in 1967 joined the Long Beach Medical Association's committee on narcotics and dangerous drugs.

A question-and-answer session will follow the panel discussion.

OF NOTED PIONEER FAMILY Celebration Private Rite Due Slated at OIC Building for Avis Dudley

Private services will be held for Avis Bixby Dudley, member of one of California's most noted pioneer families. Mrs. Dudley died Tuesday in Puerto Vara, Chile, while on a cruise around South America with her husband, Paul Harwood Dudley.

The couple resided at 4224 Locust Ave. She also leaves two sons, Paul H. of Houston, Tex., and Stephen B. of Pacific Palisades; her brother, Llewellyn Bixby Jr. of Long Beach, and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Dudley was born in Southern California, the daughter of native son Llewellyn Bixby, and granddaughter of still another Californian, Lewellyn Bixby, who with two cousins, Thomas and Benjamin Flint, bought Rancho Los Cerritos in 1864.

This was one of two ranchos which now comprise all of Long Beach.

A graduate of Pomona College in 1927, Mrs. Bixby was a member of the Junior League of Long Beach and the Little Club, and maintained an active interest in the Rancho Los Cerritos Adobe.

The homecoming will be in honor of Local OIC board chairman Percy Anderson, who has been out of town while the building was being constructed.

OIC is a self-help program now in successful operation in 70 cities throughout the nation. The primary purpose is to give prevocational training and guidance in meaningful skills, with the further aim of removing an individual from the welfare roll to be placed in the role of industrialization.

The OIC in Long Beach operates without a grant or other funds from the government.

Ambulance Firms Ask Rate Hikes

An increase in ambulance rates in Long Beach will be requested Monday of the Bureau of Franchises by the three companies now providing such service in the city.

At the same time, the bureau will conduct a hearing on the application of Schaefer's Ambulance Service to operate two ambulances in Long Beach.

The rate increase was requested by Bowers, Dilley and Mottell's Ambulance services.

They have proposed that the "answer to call" rate be increased from $25 to $30 and that the waiting time per 15-minute periods be raised from $3 to $6.25. All other rates would remain the same.

Richard Haecker, president of the Holy Name Society of St. Barnabas parish, and father of two Eagle Scouts, has been honored with the St. George Award, highest Catholic Church award to adults who serve young people and the Boy Scouts.

Haecker, of 3469 Lewis Ave., will receive the award, with four other Southland men so honored, on Sunday in St. Vibiana's Cathedral of Los Angeles, with James Francis Cardinal McIntyre making the presentation.

Haecker's award was announced by Msgr. Ernest J. Gualderon, pastor of St. Anthony's and director of Catholic Scouting.
